VOL. 10 NO. 39 WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1969

Condominium project limited to 154 units

The condominium project Alcan Design Homes has proposed for East Braeside will be limited to 154 units on 11.85 acres of useable land.

Council's committee of the whole rejected a plea by Alcan for 158 units, backing the recommendation of town planner J. X. Woodroffe who said he could not go beyond the 154 unless given different direction by council.

Mr. Woodroffe said under a bylaw council is proposing that maximum density be limited to 12 units per acre, only 142 units would be allowed on the site.

However, he gave the firm credit for some additional dedicated parkland which would allow the figure to rise to 154.

Alcan had originally proposed 168 units and in asking for the extra four units Monday night, offered council four acres of ravine land a short distance from the project site.

Council voted 4-2 to reject the 158-unit figure, with only Mayor Ray Gibbon and Councillor Bob Russell supporting the motion. Councillor R. G. Wheatley was absent.

When the 154-unit total was put to the test, it originally was lost on a 3-3 vote, Mayor Gibbon and Councillors Russell and Rene Kambouroff voting against.

Councillor J. J. Bakker, however, suggested that possibly some of the councillors had misinterpreted the motion. Councillor Russell admitted he had.

Councillor Bakker then suggested the vote be retaken.

Lawyer Jack Agrios, representing Alcan, said he hoped that it would be. He said the project may have already been killed but he would be contacting the developers and would like to know definitely what he could tell them.

The vote was retaken and passed 5-1, only Councillor Kambouroff voting against.

The committee also requested the town planner review the present layout, bringing forth any recommendations they might feel necessary in view of the change.

Mr. Agrios told the committee that the project would be the first for Alcan in Canada. Material would be cut in Ontario and shipped here for erection.

MR. AND MRS. DENIS GOULET

Youville room a bridal suite

Room 235 at the Youville Home has attained distinction. It's become the first bridal suite in the new section of the home since it was opened four years ago.

Happy occupants of the spacious quarters are newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Denis Goulet, 80 and 72 years young respectively. The couple exchanged wedding vows and rings in a ceremony held at the home Nov. 8.

Second marriages for both bride and groom, Mr. Goulet not only acquired a new wife but a ready-made family 50 members strong. The former Mrs. Eva Desnoyers of Morinville, Mrs. Goulet's family includes six sons, three daughters, 34 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Asked what the family thinks of her marriage, Mrs. Goulet said: "I'm rehappy, they're happy." She says she and her new husband are looking forward to Christmas and New Year's when the entire family gathers for one big reunion.

Mr. Goulet, who lived in the Peace River District from 1915 to 1960, had one son, now deceased, and two grandsons who live in England.

Happily readjusted to his role as dutiful husband, the groom is kept busy cutting lengths of wire for his wife to use in her hobby of making hundreds of marionette-type dolls which she has become noted for.

Not confessing to anything as dramatic as "love at first sight," the Goulets say they have been good friends since they entered the home within a few months of each other in 1968. They decided to get married about a month ago because they find contentment and companionship in being together. As for future plans, they're both perfectly contented to stay on at the home.

"It's so nice here, we've many friends and there's always something to do," says Mrs. Goulet.

"We like to play shuffleboard and cards," she says. For a honeymoon, the couple took a three-day trip to Edmonton to stay in a hotel.

Still talking about the wedding itself, Mr. Goulet's eyes sparkle when he says it was such fun and the music was so good he danced his first dance in more than 30 years. There was a special meal prepared by the chef at the home and many out-of-town guests attended.

Mr. Edward Pelletier and his son Thomas and Mrs. A. Teller provided music for the reception and special guests included many of the sisters from the home and Father Serrero. Mrs. Goulet's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Desnoyers of Edmonton were bridal attendants and Mr. Richard Fritze of Castor was master of ceremonies.

Surplus forecast can be achieved by severe control

Council forecast a surplus of $36,046 for this year, and Secretary-Treasurer D. B. O'Connell informed them as committee of the whole Monday night that with severe control this could be achieved.

The secretary-treasurer presented a complete report to the councillors as to the state of the town's finances to Sept. 30.

Mayor Ray Gibbon felt there was little comment on the report for the amount of work it had required.

"I think that because there is little comment means that we are extremely happy with the report and its contents," said Councillor J. J. Bakker. There was not a dissenting voice.

Mr. O'Connell recommended to council that the application to the Local Authorities Board to be released from its control, which will be made shortly, be accompanied by a copy of the report, a copy of the municipal inspector's report and detail of council policy governing off-site cost charges.

He also suggested that council should comment that the contingent liabilities regarding lawsuits are no longer existent.

Mr. O'Connell said projections were made on all items with consideration given to the actual to Sept. 30 and approved budgeted amounts.

Departmental functions were neither curtailed nor extended, on the assumption that insofar as the budget determines limitations, any consequential variation

Getting the most out of your coffee

If you invite Bill Baart for a cup of coffee, and he asks to see the container it's kept in, humor him. He's just come through an experience that would be enough to put a lot of people off coffee for life.

Bill keeps a pot on just about all the time in his television and repair shop on Perron Street, often inviting customers to partake of a cup.

He's done a lot of apologizing in the past week or so, as the coffee just wasn't up to snuff. "It's the pot," he would mutter, or "It's the coffee, the coffee's no good."

Tuesday morning it was worse than ever. It was time, Bill felt, to either try a new pot or new coffee.

"What coffee have you been using," queried Fernie a repairman.

"This," said Bill, pointing to a can.

Fernie gulped. "That," he said, remembering the many cups he had drunk over the previous weeks, "is the can in which we put old grounds that we throw on the floor when we sweep it. We use them over and over."

So you see, hum r him. Assure him it really is coffee

City man wins calf

A. Hodgson of Sta. 214, 10249 107th St., won the calf the St. Albert Chamber of Commerce raffled to assist the arena fund.

The chamber realized $650 on the raffle but threw in another $350 to make the donation towards the arena $1,000.

The calf was donated by M.L.A. Keith Everitt, who has been fattening it up on his farm all summer.

The winning ticket was sold by Chester Cunningham.

Streets renamed to honor mayors

Council has renamed two of the streets in town in honor of former mayors.

Namoo Road has been renamed Cunningham Road, in honor of Sam Cunningham. Technically, Mr. Cunningham was not a mayor but he was the first representative of St. Albert on the Northwest Commission. He opened the first road from St. Albert to Edmonton, which is now St. Albert Road.

Edmonton Road east of Highway 2 now is Hebert Road in honor of Cheri A. Hebert, the town's first mayor or so served from 1904 to 1907.

The streets are the second and third in the town to be named after former mayors.

Perron Street was named in honor of Fleury Perron, the town's second mayor who served from 1907 to 1909.

Other past mayors were: Lucien Boudreau, 1909; H. R. Dawson, 1910; Leon Levasseur, 1911; Dr. Arthur Groux, 1915; Michael Hogan 1918 to 1943; Dr. Richard Poirier, 1943; John E. LeClair, 1945; Jimmy Maheux, 1946; Neil M. Ross, 1947; William L. Veness, 1951 to 1964; Mayor Fowler, 1965.

Flooding of rinks could start this week

Winter has closed in on St. Albert Parks Superintendent John Beedle in a hurry.

Right now he could use a lot more hands in his department and a lot more hours in the day.

Winter is apparently here and he could have men flooding the town's outdoor rinks, but right now it's a full-time job to get up the shack at Mission Link.

Mr. Beedle had his crews up and on the job at 4:30 Monday morning in an attempt to get the base for the shack out of the town greenhouse grounds and onto the Mission site.

They didn't make it. They hit the traffic right on.

The 17-foot wide, 47-foot long base wouldn't go through the gate at the greenhouse grounds so it had to go over. This caused more than a little trouble.

However, the base was set up on the Mission grounds that morning and by today the building should be covered in.

"We're pouring all our energies into the Mission shack, but the weather isn't helping us any," Mr. Beedle said.

He said the floor would have to be tied before anything else could be done, then the building divided off. Electricity, heating and plumbing would also have to be installed.

Mr. Beedle said facilities at the rink might be a little inconvenient for a while, but he said he expected Mission to open along with rinks in Grandin, Brasside and Sturgeon.

If things go well at Mission, the parks superintendent said he may be able to spring one man free to ready the other rinks for flooding.

Snow will have to be cleared as there is too much to flood now. When flooding commences, it will require one man per rink all day to keep the water flowing onto the hockey areas and the patios.

Parks department employees began flooding the rinks on Nov. 18 last fall, but after two days a thaw came and it was nearly two weeks before it was cold enough to flood again.

Gary Larsen awarded 95-pound boxing title

Gary Larsen of St. Albert won the 95-pound Alberta Junior boxing championship last weekend without throwing a punch.

His scheduled opponent, Stanley Belcourt of Hinton, failed to show up for the match which was to be held in the gymnasium at St. Joseph's High School in Edmonton.

Del Larsen, Gary's father, said Sunday night that Gary would probably be defending the title within the next two weeks.

Gary, 14, the 80-pound champion for a time last winter, got his shot at the 95-pound title by gaining a unanimous decision over David Conroy of the South Side Legion Boxing Club on Nov. 7.

On the same card, sponsored by the Legion Club, 11-year-old Doug Hamper lost a unanimous decision to Kevin Conroy in the 70-pound division.

Gary and Doug are fighting out of St. Matthew's Boxing Club in Edmonton as there is no fight club operating in St. Albert this winter.

League will honor its old-timers

It appears as if there will be a hall house for the St. Albert Community League's Old-Timers' Night on Friday, Nov. 21.

The league has had such good response to its invitations that it expects to easily reach the 250 it has planned for.

Six men who were in on the founding of the league will be honored during the evening. John Klutha, Lorne Atkins, Fred Turnbull, Dr. R. A. Polier, Allen Blair and Henry Terrault, who is still on the executive as president.

Lt.-Gov. J. Grant MacEwan and Father Emil Tardiff will be guest speakers at the evening, which will get under way with cocktails at 6:30, followed by dinner at 7:30.

Our thought is the key which unlocks the doors of the world.

Coaches, referees to meet

A clinic for coaches and referees in the St. Albert Kinmen Minor Hockey Association is being planned for next Monday night.

Erling Wingquist, hockey

chairman, said Tuesday it would give coaches and referees a chance to iron out any problems.

The clinic will be held in one of the local schools. A film of the Stanley Cup Playoffs will be shown.

Wingquist said 30 teams would be operating in the minor hockey association this season, two in midget, four in bantam, seven in peewee, nine in mites and eight in shavers.

He said attempts were still being made to enter the mid-level teams in northeast Edmonton in leagues operated by the community leagues.

He also has feelers out again to Legal and Morinville to enter bantam and peewee teams so there will again be a Sturgeon championship.

Wilsons in action on weekend

It will be another active weekend for the athletic Wilsons.

Fourteen-year-old Shell-ey, whose speciality is fencing, will compete in a provincial tournament at the University of Alberta.

She will compete in individual and team matches in the foil event.

Donnie will do some parrying and thrusting of his own, but it will be with his fists.

He will meet Neil Austin of Vancouver in a 119-pound boxing contest that will be the main event of a card put on by the Bretteau Boxing Club.

Paul Kane out

Paul Kane Blues are just that this week.

The Blues boys' and girls' volleyball teams travelled to Athabasca last weekend to try for the North Central Zone championships.

They both lost. The scores were not reported.

This little piece of paper held by arena committee member Rene Kambouroff and Knights of Columbus representative George Lee may not seem like much from a distance, but it's going to do a lot to change the wide open space the two men are standing on. The piece of paper is a cheque for $5,000 and will go a long way toward bringing the proposed covered skating facility to fruition. The Knights had pledged the $5,000 to the project in the spring.

The children who run and play in the houses and apartment buildings being constructed. This goes on after construction personnel leave at the end of a working day. The mess left is appalling.

Safety in the home was the topic as Constable Doug Bates of the local detachment of the RCMP addressed the youngsters taking the babysitters safety course recently. Mrs. Louise Rasmussen is co-ordinator of the course, which is sponsored by the St. Albert Chapter of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses. Fifty-three youngsters will write exams on Thursday, Nov. 20.

Vars returns

St. Albert Comets appear to have picked up a centre ice man that has manager Jake Vaugoils smiling.

Vaugoils said Tuesday night that Dan Vars had attended the club's first two practices at the weekend. "He's long and tall and one of the best seniors around," Vaugoils said of Vars, who had played a couple of years with Comets before sitting out last season.

Comets are without their two regular goalies at present. Vaugoils said Rene Brodeur had possibly hung up his skates and Ray Busche was still working up north.

He said, however, that Busche was expected back. Maurie Fluet worked out in goal the first two nights and Vaugoils said he had been told that Garry Baumgartner a Flin Flon native who played with the club early last season, was intending to try out again.

Richie Perrault received the word last week that his collarbone is not broken, and has been attending practices. He is only working out lightly, however, as the shoulder is badly bruised from a collision in a game he played with a city team 10 days ago.

Comets will have three Roberge boys with them this year. Dan, Dave and Vic. Dan played at Uranium City last winter.

Vandalism sets back basketball program

Vandalism caused to Father Jan School has set back the Hercules Sports Association basketball program which had got off to such a fine start this fall.

Mrs. Kay Hopkins of the association said at the weekend that the vandalism had caused the program to be shut down.

She said, however, that the club hoped to open up again shortly, but this time in Sir George Simpson Junior High School and with much more supervision.

The club is awaiting word from the school board.

Some boys apparently sneaked off into another portion of the school during a practice and did the damage, the worst probably being the turning up of a thermostat which regulates the heat in the aquarium housing the school's pet fish.

Mrs. Hopkins said the fish were literally cooked. They were all dead the following morning.

John Field, who learned his basketball in the United States, was providing the boys with top-notch instruction and the association has now located several other people to take on the coaching of teams.

"But this isn't all that's needed," Mrs. Hopkins says. "We need some people just to supervise. The coaches can't have their eyes on the boys at all times."

Tenders

Town engineer Jan Maandag may get replacement of two 1962 town vehicles he didn't put through the inspection centre in Edmonton because he knew they wouldn't pass.

While in committee of the whole Monday night recommended that tenders be called on two three-quarter ton trucks, with the bids providing prices for both automatic and four-speed manual transmissions.

The trucks being replaced, both half-tons, are the oldest in the town's fleet.

Mr. Maandag said the three-quarter ton vehicles would be better than half-tons for the work they are required to do.

The students of St. George Simpson Elementary School put on a program Monday afternoon to mark book week. Using characters out of their books, they put on an opera and entertained more than 50 parents for more than half an hour. A committee of Grade 3 pupils did a lot of the planning for the program, but they were working under the capable supervision of Mrs. Lucia Horn, librarian, and Mrs. Hilda McFetridge, music specialist.

Legion social night

Although the snow storm kept some of our members and guests away for the evening, the entertainment of folk songs with guitars, put on by Philomena Wall and Harriet Belland, was a great success, ending their appearance with two encores.

There was a big demand from members for a return engagement. They will probably appear Nov. 29.

This coming Saturday, Nov. 22, we will have more entertainment featuring Fritz Jeckel, playing coordinated harmonica and electric drums. It should turn out to be a very lively evening.

Council seeking tot lot policy

It looked for a while in council Monday night, Nov. 10, that no one really wanted to admit ownership of the tot lots erected in five areas of the town by the Kinsmen.

Some members of council especially didn't seem to want them if they were going to cost the town any more money.

Kinsmen President Tom

White's letter to council sparked the debate. Mr. White said the agreement the Kinsmen had with former superintendent of parks Andre Gate was that the club would purchase and install the equipment and the town would take over operation and maintenance.

Mr. White said the Kinsmen were half-way through their commitment to provide 10 tot lots, but would like to express their disappointment at the manner in which the town has been maintaining the ones that have been erected.

He said the tot lot committee was being held in abeyance awaiting a reply from the town on its policy with regards to maintaining the lots.

A motion by Councillor J. J. Bakker that the matter be referred to finance to establish policy passed 7-0. He also suggested that council inform the Kinsmen to refrain from putting up any more lots until they are advised by council.

Councillor Bob Russell had earlier recommended that council inform the Kinsmen that the town was prepared to maintain the equipment and keep the grounds.

An amendment by Councillor Bakker that a report be received from parks superintendent John Beedle regarding the cost and that the matter be referred to finance was lost 5-2; and another by Councillor Frank Lukay that the matter be referred to committee of the whole with the suggestion that it come back with a policy with respect to tot lots was lost 5-2.

Square dancing is fun

The gymnasium at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School looked like a scene from L'il Abner's Dog Patch Saturday evening when the St. Albert square dance club, Saints and Sinners, held their annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. All suitably costumed for the occasion, Saints and Sinners and representatives of several Edmonton square dance clubs and Sherwood Park club, whirled and twirled to tunes called by Sid Deguire, dressed as Marry-in' Sam. Also on hand was the club mascot, Pole Cat.

B OF M AWARD

On Nov. 7, Raymond Huberdeau of 37 Grosvenor Blvd. was presented with the Bank of Montreal award for proficiency in business subjects. The presentation was made in absence of the Lorne Park Secondary School in Port Credit (Mississauga) Ont. His mother attended the graduation exercises to accept the award on behalf of Raymond.

And never again will they say

"HEY DAD... HOW COME THE OTHER KIDS ALWAYS HAVE ALL THE FUN?"

There's a lot to be said for the 1970 MOTO-SKI. But for the thrill that beats all thrills, consider this: you drive into your yard. It's wintery cold and a little after dark. The family doesn't know you're bringing home a sparkin' new 1970 MOTO-SKI (nothing wrong with making that kind of decision on your own). You walk into the house (yawn once or twice) and say to the kids: "They kids! How about bringing in those bundles from the back of the car?"

That's the kind of thrill that young folks remember best about growing up. But it's just the beginning. When you buy one of these 1970 family lovin' MOTO-SKIs, you'll make them like they're "the other kid". The one that always has all the fun!

BASKETBALL

The Hercules Sports Association Basketball program will resume in Sir George Simpson Junior High School on Monday, Nov. 24. Mr. John Field will again be the coach and boys between the ages of 10 and 16 who want to play basketball should register at the school at 7 p.m. on Monday.

TABLE TENNIS

Table tennis under the sponsorship of the Hercules Association continues to be very well attended. This program is held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Clubhouse. The 10 - 12 year olds play from 7 - 8 p.m. and the 13's and over from 8 - 9 p.m. Parents are invited to come along and watch and supervise - and perhaps play if they feel so inclined.

FIGURE SKATING

Registrations are still being taken at the department of parks and recreation in the town hall for the programs sponsored by the St. Albert Figure Skating Club; learn-to-skate, figure skating and power skating.

MEN'S SOCCER

The club has started its winter training program in Father Jan School. These sessions are held every Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The first winter league game will be played in the Kinsmen Fieldhouse on Tuesday, Nov. 25 at approximately 8:30 p.m. when the local team will meet the University Golden Bears.

MEN'S KEEP FIT

The Men's Keep Fit class sponsored by the YMCA, is held on Wednesday evenings at Sir Alexander Mackenzie

School from 7 - 9 p.m. This is an excellent program for men who want to keep in shape during the winter months and consists of exercises which are followed by a game of volleyball. The exercises can be moderate or strenuous; everyone sets his own pace.

...how you can tell when something is prevented?

You can see the results of a specific preventive program in your local community when an undesirable social condition improves. Providing support and creating the opportunity for municipalities to establish needed programs such as homemaker services, day care and family life centres, is the prime long-range service offered by the Social Planning Branch of the Alberta Department of Social Development. Assistance provided takes the form of continuing consultation with locally appointed directors and cost-sharing of expenditures on particular projects. The service is available to all municipalities in the province and under local arrangement many neighbouring towns take advantage of shared resources to implement joint preventive efforts for the benefit of individuals and families in their combined areas. A folder outlining the concept and aims of preventive social service and the role taken by local directors is available from this Branch on request.

Wise use of our natural resources is the objective of an unique program which is organized and administered by the 4-H and Junior Forest Warden Branch of the Alberta Department of Youth. Volunteers supervise Junior Forest Warden and Girl Forest Guard Clubs in a program for young people who love the great outdoors. Each year hundreds of boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 18, in all parts of the province, become involved in this long-range educational program. Week-end outings and summer-time camping are just part of their year-round activities which include regular meetings and community service projects such as tree planting, and campsite clean-up campaigns. Members learn to recognize erosion and pollution, understand the danger, and how to take effective control measures in order to protect our forests, soil, waters, fish and wildlife. From the thousands of young people who first started as Junior Forest Wardens and Girl Forest Guards many have chosen future careers as biologists and foresters.

...when a hole in the ground becomes a mine?

Regulations governing safety in coal mining and quarry operations are administered by the Director and his staff of inspectors of the Mines Division of the Alberta Department of Mines and Minerals. The excavation of oil sands, and in simplified terms any digging for removal of minerals can be considered a mining operation and a permit to operate must be obtained before the operation commences. For the benefit of workers, all sanitary and other facilities must be approved by the Division. Managers and other supervisory staff must pass certification examinations. Continuous safety checks are carried out by District Inspectors on all electrical systems, while machinery and equipment must meet approved standards. All mines and quarries throughout the province are identified by number and plans and maps are recorded and kept under the same number. These are also available for inspection by any interested person at the office of the Mines Division.

Have you ever considered...

...confirming your facts about trust companies?

All trust companies handling money for you in this province, whether provincially or federally chartered, must be fully registered with the Alberta Department of the Attorney General through the Director of Trust Companies. You can check with the Director about what regulations exist for your protection and confirm any facts you're unsure of concerning the type of services offered to the public by these companies. All such institutions in the deposit taking and investment certificate business are required to be members of the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation, which automatically insures your funds up to a maximum of $20,000. The department's auditing and accounting staff continually process all annual financial statements, quarterly reports or monthly bulletins prepared by trust companies which must be submitted to the Director for examination and approval. Any public complaints relating to trust company operations in Alberta are investigated and immediately dealt with by the Director.

An active program of assistance and providing means to help people of this province eliminate prejudice and discrimination is available through the Human Rights Branch of the Alberta Department of Labour. The full-time staff of this Branch work directly with community and church groups, service clubs, associations, schools and other institutions providing an organizational arm for informative discussions, forums, presentations and workshops dealing with the practice of human rights. A variety of publications, folders and pamphlets detailing the protective measures of the Alberta Human Rights Act are available on request. Display scrolls and printed wall placards are also available without charge. Any person who feels he has suffered discrimination in employment, public and apartment accommodation or public services because of his colour, race, religion, place of origin or ancestry may file a written complaint with the Administrator. All such complaints are investigated through the facilities and authority of the Administrator who acts to seek settlement and satisfaction for the person involved.

...music that is easy, or difficult?

You can choose your reference selections of sheet music from the extensive library of published music, including solo works, ensemble orchestrations and choral scores maintained by the Cultural Development Branch, Music Division, of the Alberta Department of the Provincial Secretary. This reference service is provided without a charge on a monthly basis. Complete listings are available on request under recorder, choral, or instrumental groupings — with most numbers graded in categories from easy to difficult.

This year, thousands of musically talented men and women, boys and girls from all over the province also took advantage of the consulting service and local workshops that can be arranged through supervisors of the Division. Another major activity organized each year is the province-wide Summer Workshop series that draws many internationally famous artists and educators to Alberta to help develop local musical talent. Plans for the 12th annual event, to be followed by regional concert tours, are underway. Workshop fees include tuition, board and lodging.

would have to have the prior approval of council.

Mr. O'Connell said projections to year end... "indicate a surplus of cash assets over cash liabilities and it is promoted that this solvency be developed to a degree sufficient to meet cash demand in any year prior to tax receipts.

"Basing computations on a Jan. 1 to June 30 need, a cash surplus of at least $100,000 is required."

He recommended that council adopt a policy whereby an annual surplus will be provided to meet this end.

Mr. O'Connell said a budgeted surplus of $3,730 will not be realized in the water supply system because of a revenue loss caused by the change in billing procedure of almost $7,000, together with over-expenditure estimated at $5,000.

The committee discussed at considerable length the manner of reading meters and billing.

Town Engineer Jan Maandag said meters now going into homes were adaptable to outside reading. The committee asked him for a report on meters of this type and their possible placement in existing areas as well as new areas.

It was suggested that any additional expense of placing such meters would probably be gladly accepted by the homeowner for the convenience provided.

It was also suggested that in the long run it would mean less expense for the town because it would reduce call-backs required in the evenings at the homes of people who are usually out during the day.

The committee was told that estimates would be used twice, but beyond that every attempt was made to obtain a reading.

Regarding billing, Councilor de Bruijn suggested the town look at IBM billing. He suggested this could cut costs from $11,000 to $3,000 the first year and to about $2,400 a year after that.

He said IBM had done a study in the town and in view of advanced technology, it would be good to look at it again.

The Editor: I have forwarded the following letter to the mayor of St. Albert:

Dear Mr. Mayor, On Saturday, Nov. 15, the Town of St. Albert was hit by the first major snow storm of the season. This storm subsided sometime during the early hours of Sunday, Nov. 16. By nightfall of that day, not one single avenue, street or crescent within the corporate limits of the town was cleared of snow.

As a resident of many years, and as a taxpayer of this town, I would appreciate to be advised of the reason for the failure of the public works department to fulfill its duties of this very necessary public service. I recall incidents of the same nature, at a time when our municipal tax rate was half the present level, that snow removal started the instant the storm subsided.

I should also like to be informed whether this failure is to be regarded as an isolated incident, or if it is the policy of your administration to leave the snow removal to Mother Nature - sometime in the Spring of 1970?

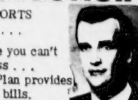

I am sure that many of our fellow citizens feel the same way as I do about the deterioration of the public service of this town, for which we pay so heavily in our local taxes.
